My personal statement:

The Common is a fantastic community asset. As a resident of Clapham Town since 2012, I have enjoyed being able to regularly walk through, relax in and run around it, and I want to ensure it stays attractive.

Relevant expertise I bring is an understanding of renewable energy (through my job at National Grid) and issues surrounding sustainable use of natural resources, which applies on a micro-level to the Common. I am also on the Advisory Board of an international renewable energy project. Professionally, I have wide financial and business experience, including knowledge of the grounds maintenance contracting process for public parks via previous work as a management consultant.

I have also served as a school governor for four years (at Melcombe School, when living in Hammersmith) as I am committed to helping my community.

CCMAC plays a vital role in ensuring the Common is preserved to a high standard and offers a range of amenities to all. It would be a privilege to assist this work.
